

Introduction – Karen Litzinger

Please read exactly as written.

Do you ever ask yourself the lifelong question, “What Do I Want to Be When I Grow Up”? Karen Litzinger has spent her entire life helping people figure that out. Then she helps them not have their resumes lost in the black hole of the Internet.

In addition to speaking about career planning, Karen provides outplacement services and business etiquette training to major corporations including Westinghouse, PNC Financial Services, CVS Pharmacy, Eat’n Park Hospitality Group as well as dozens of professional associations, colleges and high schools.

Karen has attained the special status of Master Career Development Professional and professional membership in the National Speakers Association.

On a personal note, Karen is the founder of the annual event, World Gratitude Day Pittsburgh.

We think you’ll be grateful she came today. Please join me in welcoming....Karen Litzinger.
